

Medieval Allegory and Cognitive Rhetoric
English 793CA and
The Chinese University of Hong Kong present an open class with

Peter Crisp

Dr. Crisp, a Senior Lecturer in the Department of English at the Chinese University of Hong Kong who has also taught in Nigeria, Canada, and China, will be discussing his pioneering studies on the cognitive dimensions of allegory. Several of his important papers—"Allegory, Maps, and Modernity: Cognitive Change from Bunyan to Forster" (2003), "Allegory, Blending, and Possible Situations" (2005), "Allegory and Symbol: A Fundamental Opposition?" (2005), and "Between Extended Metaphor and Allegory: Is Blending Enough" (2008)—are available for download at the English 793CA website: www.arts.uwaterloo.ca/~raha/793CA_web/793CA-09schedule.html.

Wednesday, 24 June, 9:00 - 12:00
